I love Halloween. It's my second favorite Christmas holiday just, but it holds a special place in my heart because I get back-to-back goodness from my birthday and then, 24 hours later, all the goodness Halloween brings. Those at DualBoot Games (the creators of other live wallpapers, would be Celtic Garden HD) have whipped another for us, this time all haunted and creepy, just in time for Halloween. It's called Haunted House HD, and in terms of live wallpapers go, despite the fact that it's time sensitive, it's probably one of the most detailed I've encountered. From the moment you open the live wallpaper selector and choose Haunted House HD, the Halloween vibe will wash over you. A room walks past a creepy house, shrouded in fog, while the lights flicker. Jack-o-lanterns guard the door and scary messages appear over the door in blood. Everything is quite smooth, despite the fact that so much is happening. The door opens and closes by itself as the camera sweeps back, the lights light up, revealing a silhouette in the window, and the flag on the mailbox moves up and down on its own initiative. If you want to enter the house, you'll need to skip the fully loaded settings menu and change the camera view. The interior of the house is as (if not more) occupied than the outside. The lights continue to flicker, the fire is a pale blue, ghostly, and the paintings have skulls superimposed on the face of the subject. The ethereal steps pulsate and disappear on the floor, and the odd breeze throws the chandelier around. It's a lot to take in, but it's still really fun. Back to the settings menu, when I said uploaded, I meant it. You can choose the camera view, set the name for the mailbox and door, choose the type of face you want for pumpkins, and turn on individually or disable every wallpaper variable it has to offer. If you feel like getting into the holiday spirit, Haunted House HD is $1.99 in Android Market. We have several pictures and download links after the break. Today, Google officially unveiled several new hardware products, including the new Pixel 5. Thanks to Mishaal Rahman on Twitter (of Fame XDA Developers), we now have a collection of a dozen Google Pixel 5 wallpapers for you to enjoy on your current device. Download now originally published: October 15, 2019 Google Pixel 2 was shaping up to be one of the best phones of the year, and while the non-XL model might not have the most attractive hardware, both variants will be delivered with some of the best Android software around. One of the many features featured off at the October 4 ad event was Pixel 2 updated live wallpapers, and thanks to a developer named Pranav Pandey, you can now download these on any Android phone running 6.0 Marshmallow or above. A wallpaper shows Lagos, Portugal, with waves crashing down a rocky shore, while another showcases hot air balloons flying over Monument Valley, Utah. There are also Glimmer wallpapers that illuminate when you tap the home screen, the goey ones with virtual goo that responds and reshapes based on taps and swipes, and even real-time views of Mars and the Moon. If it looks like a lot of Pixel 2 features have been ported on to other phones recently, that's because they were. Static Pixel 2 wallpapers were made available for download before these live images, and along with that, the Pixel 2 launcher and camera app were released as well. The Pixel 2 is an expensive phone, and while these apps and wallpapers won't give you exactly the same experience found on Google's latest and biggest, they sure will give you get close.
